

Council Asks Victoria To Send Com For School Dis

At the request of the school district, Summerland council is sending a communication to Victoria, urging the government to send in its new commission on school costs and assessments and obtain a ruling on the tangled assessment squabble between municipalities and rural area in Penticton School District No. 15.

This dispute is beginning to pinch the school district which is in need of funds and will not be able to function unless the full amount of the levies is obtained before the year end.

Summerland has refused to accept the department of education ruling that it should share school costs on the full amount of the 1946 assessment figures, including school trees which are part of the total as improvements.

This school trees question has been the major stumbling block facing the school district and its component parts since early in the year. Several thousand dollars are involved in the dispute.

Without taking sides in the question, the school district asked the local council on Monday evening to take some action which would clear the air and allow the school board to proceed as planned.

This request was considered reasonable by the local municipal group, which stated it would press Victoria for the newly-appointed commission to come to the Okanagan immediately.

However, The Review wired H. Allen Maclean, chairman of the commission, on Saturday asking when this body would visit the Okanagan. In reply, Mr. Maclean stated: "Commission has not yet been called together but present indications are that there will be no public hearing in Okanagan Valley until mid-October."

This six-man commission has been instructed by the government to inquire into the performance of the assessment function for school taxation; the degree to which land and improvements are being assessed in accordance with the public schools act; the applicability and suitability of the definitions of "land and improvements" in the various acts for assessment purposes; and general incidence of taxation under the schools act.

Dr. T. F. Parmley, chairman and W. W. Riddell, finance committee head, of Penticton, and P. G. Dodwell and Mrs. A. W. Vanderburgh, Summerland trustees were the visitors to the Summerland council meeting Monday night.

Wants Clarification Dr. Parmley pointed out that the Summerland council does not agree with the education department's ruling on Summerland's share of school costs and the school district wishes Summerland to place that stand before the department to try and clarify the situation. "We don't presume to advise you on your steps but we would like to see the situation clarified and let us get on with our work," was Dr. Parmley's contention.

Reeve W. R. Powell, speaking on behalf of the Summerland council, took umbrage at the picture of the Summerland actions which has been brought out by the Penticton council and by the Penticton press.

He declared that the Summerland council has always considered its stand on the trees question a matter of common justice, to this community and will continue to fight on this contention until the stand is upheld or proved wrong.

He referred to the meeting of Penticton and Summerland councils with members of the school board when Penticton council bluntly stated that it wished Summerland divorced from the school district.

Reflection on Council At that time and in future council meetings reported in the Penticton Herald, the Penticton municipal body inferred that it could not work with Summerland.

"This is a reflection on the present and future councils to which we take objection," declared Reeve Powell. "We went to that meeting prepared to support the school bylaw and we are still prepared to do that. Can't you see how our feelings were hurt when we were told by Penticton councillors that the bylaw wouldn't pass in Penticton and that they wouldn't work with us?" he queried.

Dr. Parmley hurried to remind the Summerland council that the school board was just as surprised as Summerland councillors at the Penticton decision to ask for a divorce from Summerland in the school district.

Throughout subsequent discussions, Summerland councillors expressed their desire to see the issue settled as quickly as possible and if a ruling could be obtained from this school costs commission, then the local feeling would be to "let the chips fall where they may."

Summerland paid on trees to the school district once but that is no reason to do it again, was another pointed remark.

Give Fair Trial The general opinion was also expressed by local councillors that they would like to see the amalgamated school district given a fair trial but in view of the Penticton council attitude toward Summerland they could not see how such a situation could continue.

With the Penticton council taking the stand: "We don't want anything to do with Summerland," I don't think we will ever be able to work with them, one councillor remarked.

Throughout the Monday night session the meeting was quite harmonious and there was a general opinion expressed that some action must be taken soon to bring the impasse to a conclusion one way or another.

Some doubt was expressed that the commission is empowered to bring down decisions on questions such as face the local school district but it was considered that the government might give authority for such a step to be taken in this emergency.

Council Seeks Reason For Juice Halt

Electrical Foreman Percy Thornber faced a disturbed municipal council on Monday afternoon to give an accounting for the cessation of light and power within the municipality for an hour on that morning.

The Summerland Co-operative Growers' Assn. wrote a strong letter of protest concerning the power shut-off, claiming that in the cannery alone the loss of fruit and workers' time would amount to $150.

While the power was shut off in mid-morning, the municipal office was besieged with telephone calls from business people and maddened housewives whose weekly washings were hindered by the stoppage of electricity.

Mr. Thornber explained to the council that there had been some trouble in regulating the current and he had taken the opportunity of obtaining advice from a friend, Mr. Stacey, of UBC, who was in Summerland that day.

One Minute More The shut-off, he explained, was not to have been for more than one minute, but when he threw the switch over to re-connect the current, the corresponding switch in the Penticton office of the West Kootenay Power & Light Co., was thrown out.

Mr. Thornber immediately telephoned Penticton but received no answer from the West Kootenay office. He tried to locate the Penticton municipal electrician aid in the emergency, but to no avail.

At this critical moment, J. D. McMynn, West Kootenay manager in Penticton, arrived on the scene in West Summerland. He turned around and drove rapidly back to Penticton where he endeavored to put back the switch.

So great was the load from Summerland, however, that the switch at Penticton was driven back four times and it was only when it was "shorted" that the connection was finally made.

"Why couldn't the shut-down have been made at the noon hour or some more convenient time rather than in mid-morning?" queried Councillor Bentley.

"Why don't you say something to the West Kootenay when they have a shut-down in power?" Foreman Thornber retorted in reply. "You never say anything to them when they are off for half an hour and we only meant to be off a minute."

Everything Against Him Mr. Thornber was told to leave the West Kootenay power failures out of the discussion, for the time being.

He further explained that a minute's shutoff would not have hurt anybody and he had no idea that the West Kootenay office would have been abandoned at that time Monday morning.

"Everything went against me this morning," he stated.

Reeve Powell warned Mr. Thornber of the loss in time and possible damage to fruit which could result at this time of the year with a power failure while Councillor Wilson pointed out the necessity of making sure that there is a man in the West Kootenay office before making any such tests.

The council concluded its cross-examination by exacting a promise from Foreman Thornber that it would only be in the case of "life and death" that he would turn off the power for such tests in the future, at least at such an inconvenient time of the day.

R. B. Elliott's offer of $150 for six lots in "Chinaman's Gulch" was turned down by the council on Monday but the latter agreed to rent them for a fee of $15 per year. These are sidehill lots and the council deemed it advisable to retain them.

Rifle Team In Sixth Place Summerland rifle club members placed sixth in the first annual meet of the Vernon Military Rifle Assn. held at the Vernon military range recently. There were fourteen rifle teams entered from Kamloops, Vernon, Kelowna and Summerland.

Kamloops No. 1 team had top score with 476 points, followed by that town's No. 2 team with 454. Vernon was third with 450 closely followed by Kelowna No. 1 with 449 and Kelowna No. 2 with 415. Summerland's entry was next with 402.

The interior championships will be held next month when the Spay Royal cup will be at stake. It is probable that this meet will also be held on Vernon's military range.

J. J. BLEWETT IS BURNED IN FIRE

Mr. J. J. Blewett is suffering today from gasoline fire burns to his back, chest, neck and ear, received when a gasoline stove exploded in the basement of the Blewett home in Peach Orchard late Tuesday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Blewett were attempting to light the fire preparatory to canning fruit when the stove exploded. Mr. Blewett, despite his severe burns, fought the blaze until it was practically under control. Neighbors assisted to put out the remaining embers and the West Summerland fire brigade arrived promptly on the scene but too late to be of much assistance.

Timbers and wiring below the main portion of the house were burned and smoke damage also resulted in some loss.

Mr. Blewett's shirt was on fire at one stage and had to be ripped from his back but the elderly man still insisted on going back into the cellar and fight the fire.

MEMORIAL SERVICE FOR LAKE VICTIMS

Memorial services for the late Doreen Wilkinson and Peter Dodwell, who were tragically drowned last week, were read in St. Stephen's Anglican church on Sunday afternoon, August 24, with Canon F. V. Harrison officiating.

The church, which was beautifully decorated with masses of red and white gladioli, through the kindness of E. H. Bennett, was filled to capacity, as life-long friends of the family paid their last respects.

Routine memorial services were conducted in a dignified, but simple ceremony. Mrs. Robert Jenkinson, mother of Mrs. Peter Dodwell, and Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Dodwell, all of Vancouver, were present for the ceremonies.

Valley Girls Leave Anglican Camp To-day

Fifty girls from all parts of the Okanagan and Similkameen are going back to their homes today following a highly successful girls' camp at the farm beach, Summerland, conducted by the W.A. of the Diocese of Kootenay of the Anglican church.

Mrs. N. O. Solly, Summerland, has been in charge of this camp, assisted by Mrs. J. Batchelor, Castlegar, and Miss Helen Moore, Hedley.

This camp is an annual affair for girls of the Anglican church from the Okanagan and Kootenays. Although the attendance increased this year it would have been much greater had not the polo scare caused many parents to keep their youngsters at home.

Mrs. Solly declares: "Age limits for this camp are from 10 to 16 years and the fifty girls who attended the 1947 camp had a grand time."

The daily routine included chapel, organized games, swimming and swimming instruction, boating, handicrafts, and special talks.

Two of the special speakers who came to the camp were Mrs. M. T. C. Ferrell, of Proctor, B.C., secretary of the girls' auxiliary for the Diocese of Kootenay, a group which the Anglican church hopes will become better known through out the area and increase in size; and Mr. John Vander Lest, formerly of Holland, who is a visitor at the home of Rev. and Mrs. W. S. Beames, in Penticton.

Mr. Vander Lest, who is an Anglican theological student, gave the girls an idea of some of the Dutch experiences during the war years and also told of conditions in present-day Holland.

Sunday, August 24, was visitors' day at the camp and between fifty and seventy-five parents and friends took this opportunity to see their girls in camp.

Camp attendance was made up of girls from Cawston, Hedley, Princeton, Kelowna, East Kelowna, Penticton, Naramata, Summerland and Westvold.

Mrs. Solly gave special praise to the fine work of the camp cook, Mrs. W. Lowman, and also expressed appreciation of the co-operation of Summerland merchants who have been helpful in giving discounts for camp provisions. The girls only contribute fifty cents per day for camp, so Mrs. Solly has had to be extremely careful to balance the budget.

At a price of $400 Dan Ulrich has agreed to purchase three tax sale lots from the municipality in lower town. He offered $850 and the council's previous figure was $450, but the compromise figure was agreed.

Schools Open With Buildings Full To Capacity - 600 Pupils

Every available inch of space in the two Summerland schools will be occupied on Tuesday, September 2, when the halls of learning open for the fall term. Old records for attendance will fall by the way, side as more than 600 students will be crammed into accommodation built for figures much lower in number.

In the elementary school, it is estimated that 484 students will register for the new term and Principal S. A. MacDonald is afraid that this is a low estimate. In the high school, Principal A. K. Macleod gives a probable enrolment of 126 and this may also prove too low a figure.

All basement rooms in the elementary school, plus the library room, are to be used as classrooms. In the high school the situation is just as bad, as even one end of the main hallway is to be utilized for classroom purposes and students will also alternate between the high school building and the elementary rooms, when the latter students are taking industrial arts and home economics.

Four Basement Rooms

Four divisions are to be housed in the basement of the elementary as that school endeavors to cope with 480 pupils. At the close of the spring term, there were 444 pupils enrolled.

Some minor improvements have been undertaken in this building this summer but most of the alteration work is being left until the school bylaw allowing for a complete renovation of the building is passed.

At the high school, floors have been varnished, the home economics room painted and extra lighting is still to be installed at the west end of the main hallway, which will be used as a teaching area.

Grade X shows the heaviest increase in the high school and is creating a major problem for Principal Macleod. He states that any students who are new to the district and have not yet registered should do so at once.

He also urges pupils to provide themselves with running shoes for the physical education periods and the required text books, so that their work will not suffer should shortages develop.

New options will be given next term in the high school provided there is a sufficient demand. These consist of junior business in Grade X, journalism for grades XI and XII and biology A for grade XII.

Many Changes Only four teachers are leaving. Miss Mavis Huston, Vancouver, social studies, health, physical education and guidance; Miss Eileen Moore, Vancouver, English, French, general science; Miss Irene Wilson, Victoria, home economics; Mr. John T. Smith, Vancouver, mathematics, health, physical education and guidance.

Mr. Charles D. Kennedy, E.A., of Naramata, who was formerly a principal at West Vancouver, has been added to the staff of the Summerland schools to take part-time work in both high and elementary grades, thus relieving the principals in both schools. He will teach science, junior business and journalism in the high school.

He is interested in track and field and other branches of school sports.

In the elementary school, there are four new staff members. Mr. Ben Nesbitt will teach grades 7 and 8. He is a graduate of Victoria Normal school and has taken a summer school course in physical education.

Miss Ethel Joslin, from Meadow Lake, Sask., is taking Grade 6 classes. Miss Mildred Kirkpatrick, of Fernie, a graduate of Vancouver Normal, will be instructor for grades 4 and 5. She plans to specialize in music.

Another graduate this year of Vancouver Normal is Miss Marion Nichols, of Vancouver, who is taking classes in grades 2 and 3.

THORNBUR LOSES BY NEW RATE

With the new electrical rate being allowed by the West Kootenay to the municipality there is one consumer hero who is liable to suffer somewhat.

Municipal Electrical Foreman Percy Thornber has been allowed a special rate for years by the West Kootenay company, suppliers of the juice, in the same manner that West Kootenay officials themselves are given juice at practically cost.

This courtesy rate to the electrical foreman has now been discontinued but Mr. Thornber was not notified until near the end of the month. Because he uses a water heater, his electrical bill ran to $30.

The council informed Mr. Thornber on Monday that it would review this bill with the West Kootenay, stating that his contention that he should have been notified at an earlier date is a correct one.

Councillors F. E. Atkinson and E. M. Tait were absent from last Monday's council session, the former being in Manitoba and the latter being busily employed in harvesting his peach crop.

Ruth Nesbitt Beauty Winner At Carnival

Largest crowd ever to attend the annual street carnival staged each summer by the Summerland Canadian Legion branch, lined Granville street Saturday night to watch the pet parade, admire the bathing beauties, play many of the games of "skill", drink gallons of cider, eat copious quantities of hot dogs and generally make merry for a few hours.

Thirty-two entries lined up for the pet parade shortly after seven o'clock to parade in two groups up and down the block on Granville street roped off for the occasion and led by the Penticton Legion pipe band.

Pets of every description, including dogs, cats, chickens, rabbits and many other household birds and animals gave the crowd a big laugh as the children attempted to keep them under control.

Judges Task Difficult The judging of a high standard and it was only with difficulty that the judges were able to make their decision. In fact, so harassed were the judges that they prevailed on Legion official Dave

Perry-Rees Nuptials Take Place at Coast

Of major interest to Summerland was the wedding in Vancouver on Wednesday afternoon, August 20, at the Kerrisdale Baptist church, when Rev. Frank Haskins of West Summerland officiated at the marriage of Mr. Lorne Graham Perry, only son of Mr. and Mrs. George Perry, West Summerland and Miss Sylvia Margaret Rees, younger daughter of Major and Mrs. Brinley Rees, of Penylan, Cardiff, Wales.

The bride travelled from Wales for the ceremony, which was the climax of a romance started overseas, when the groom served as an officer in the RCAF. The bride served in the WRNS. Mr. Perry is a graduate of the UBC, and is affiliated with the Delta Upsilon fraternity. He is a prominent young businessman in West Summerland.

The bride was given in marriage by a family friend from Wales; Major Kenneth Morgan, and was gownned in a smart winter white crepe suit with maroon accessories and staphanotis.

Matron-of-honor was Mrs. Harold Graham wearing a French beige crepe dress with brown accessories, and carrying a colonial bouquet of pink carnations and white sweet peas.

Mr. Harold Graham, fraternity brother of the groom, served as groomsman, while ushers were Dr. Wilford Evans, who is well-known in Summerland, and Mr. Gerald Haskins.

The reception which followed the wedding was held at the home of the groom's cousin, Mr. J. C. Ashdown.

For a honeymoon trip to Vancouver, Island, Seattle and Portland, Mrs. Perry wore a wine and navy English tweed suit and topcoat. Mr. and Mrs. Perry will make their future home in West Summerland.

Mr. and Mrs. George Perry, parents of the groom, as well as the officiating minister, Rev. F. W. Haskins and Mrs. Haskins, were visitors to the coast for the Perry-Rees rites.

Lake Tragedy

Summerland in particular and the entire Okanagan was shocked last week to hear of the tragic death on Okanagan lake of Peter Dodwell, of this community and Doreen Wilkinson, of Vancouver.

Peter Dodwell was a native son of Summerland. He grew up in the community and the young people knew him well and liked him. So did those of the older generations with whom he came in contact.

He was a lover of the outdoors and was at home hiking up Snow Mountain as he was on the lake, in swimming or boating. He answered the call to service in World War II and distinguished himself in the air force, graduating from that hard school as a flight lieutenant, after serving a term of operations in those strenuous and heart-breaking days of the Normandie invasion.

After all his brushes with death in the air, it is sad that a young man with such possibilities ahead of him, should meet such a tragic and sudden end.

Little is known here of Miss Doreen Wilkinson, who met the same fate as Peter Dodwell. But we do know that she was an intelligent young lady whose devotion in girls' work at the coast had won for her a host of friends.

To the families who were so suddenly bereaved in such a shocking manner, the community of Summerland offers its heart-felt sympathy.

The huge crowd which attended the memorial service at St. Saviour's church last Sunday bore mute testimony to the feelings of the community.

The Flower Show

Once more Summerland has taken the lead in the cultural life of the South Okanagan. Last week's flower show staged by Summerland Horticultural Society had the best displays of summer flowers which it has ever been privileged to feature in twenty-two years of keen competition.

Propagation of flowers is a hobby which brings keen enjoyment to the home owner. To produce the best quality of bloom takes an infinite amount of patience and hard, careful work. It also takes study and knowledge of the plants and their idiosyncracies to produce blooms of sufficient quality to capture prizes or admiring glances.

To stage a flower show properly is another product of hard work and patience. As usual, it was only a handful of faithful workers whose energy gave forth the high quality results of last week.

Summerland, generally, is congratulating not only the energetic members of the Summerland Horticultural Society whose efforts attained such heights in the 1947 show, but also the many garden lovers whose displays won such merited praise.

Another indication of the respect and esteem this show has gained in the South Okanagan is the number of entries from outside points. These flower lovers in neighboring communities have a high regard for the Summerland summer flower show and it is to their credit that they travelled many miles to display the results of their garden efforts and take away so many prizes.

Back To School

On Tuesday school re-opens after the brief summer holidays. Children from six to nineteen will trudge back after their short respite to delve further into the realm of education.

This will be a difficult year ahead for students and teachers alike. Both schools will be crammed to the utmost. In the elementary school, all basement rooms will be filled and this is not a proper atmosphere in which to instill learning. Facilities at the high school will be more crowded than ever.

The irony of the situation is that there will be no respite for another full year. If the bylaw to remodel the elementary school had gone forward this summer it is possible the building could have been completed by the turn of the year.

But with the present impasse in school affairs, there is little likelihood that the bylaw will reach the public for passage in 1947. At least, it probably will not come until it is too late to start construction work this year. This means that the school will not be renovated until next spring or summer, at the earliest.

The situation here is certainly not a lone one, as far as accommodation is concerned. It is being felt everywhere and the entire system of education is suffering thereby.

Let us hope that the newly-appointed commission to inquire into school taxation will visit this school district in the very near future and endeavor to find a solution. We are not hopeful that it will take action, but there is always the hope.

The Inside Story

By AGROLOGIST

Column writers certainly earn their pay. As evidence of the truth of this statement consider the ordeal which I went through to secure the information presented in the following paragraphs.

Last Saturday afternoon when I called on Dick Palmer to secure information regarding what was going on at the Experimental Station I found him busy canning peaches. The printable portions of our conversation are summarized below.

Dick: You are just the very man I want. My wife and boys have gone off on a holiday and have left me with this mountain of peaches to can. If you are willing to help me I am prepared to reveal to you the secrets and mysteries of the ancient and honorable art of peach canning.

Agrologist: I am actually very busy, but I might stay a few minutes and give you a hand. I understand that full instructions regarding the canning of peaches are available in bulletin form so that it will hardly be necessary for me to work all afternoon to learn how the job is done.

Dick: That's where you're wrong. The deep secrets of the art are learned only by actual experience. For example, I have ascertained that the job can be speeded up immensely by canning the fruit without peeling it. This procedure also improves the flavor of the final product. The method I follow is to run a knife around the peach, then place one hand on each half and give a slight twist. By this procedure the two halves are readily separated, leaving the pit adhering to one half. Then cut each half in half again which makes it very easy to remove the pit even from varieties that tend to be clinging stone.

Agrologist: That sounds like a good idea. I notice that you are using wide mouth jars. Have you had any difficulty in getting these jars to seal?

Dick: No, I have devised a technique which gives almost 100 per cent success. The first essential is to avoid filling the jars too full. The hot syrup should be filled in only to the neck of the jar, leaving about half an inch headspace. Care should be taken to see that the top edge of the jar is clean and free from nicks. The lid should then be placed on squarely and secured by turning the screw band as tightly as possible. Furthermore you will note that I am using three different makes of wide mouth jars, namely, Kerr Mason, Sure Seal and Dominion. These jars are almost identical and the same lids will give satisfactory results with all of them. However, the screw ring for the Kerr Mason jars does not make a good fit on the other two. Similarly, the screw bands for the Dominion and Sure Seal do not make a good fit on the Kerr Mason jars. If you will look closely you will note that the screw bands for Kerr Mason jars have a narrower flange than the other two. Care should be taken to use the right kind of screw band on each kind of jar.

Agrologist: Do you tighten the jars again after you remove them from the boiler when they are cooked?

Dick: With this type of jar it is not desirable to tighten up the screw band after the jars are removed.

Agrologist: How do you tell when the jar is sealed?

Dick: The vacuum created in the jar when it cools causes the fruit to rise, leaving about half an inch of clear juice at the base.

Agrologist: Do you have any difficulty removing those screw bands?

Dick: No, I remove them as soon as the jars have cooled. The hands can be removed quite easily at this time but if you are foolish enough to leave them on until you wish to use the fruit, they will have become firmly stuck, making removal very difficult.

Agrologist: The information which you have given me indicates that Summerland housewives will be well advised to go off on a holiday and leave their husbands to work out the fine points of the canning operation. I am quite sure that Muriel Hurry will be very jealous of my column this week.

The Feminine Front

by MURIEL HURRY

General cross-sections of opinion have always interested me, and I think they do most people. I spent an interesting hour on Saturday morning when I walked from one end of the main street to the other, and asked each person I met his (or her) opinion of the proposed chlorination of the water supply in Summerland. Some of the answers were amusing, and all were interesting.

Apparently the recent outbreak of intestinal troubles was still fresh in the minds of several, and I think that this minor epidemic had a great deal to do with influencing the opinion of the general public in favor of the proposed chlorination.

As it was rather early on Saturday morning that I made my tour, the people I met were more or less familiar figures of the street, which fact will probably make the answers all the more interesting.

Dave Thompson, electrician: "I have read about the chlorination controversy at the coast, and many of the objections then were by people who did not realize the benefits which could be derived from the chlorination. Our reservoir here, to the best of my knowledge, has never in the 36 years I have lived in Summerland, been cleaned. In my opinion the water supply should be purified in some manner."

Bill Sherwood, grocery clerk: "I am entirely impartial. I do not think there would be any real benefit from the chlorination, but on the other hand it would not be harmful."

Mrs. B. Hankins, housewife: "If it would help matters any, it certainly ought to be done."

Bill Barnes, businessman: "I have drank a great deal of chlorinated water during service years, and it certainly never hurt me. It is a good health measure."

W. Verrier, businessman: "I certainly think it ought to be done, even as a measure of cleanliness."

Mrs. G. A. Laidlaw, housewife: "It is a good idea for general health reasons."

George Milburn, of Toronto, who is spending the summer in Summerland: "Having drank chlorinated water for years, I can find nothing wrong with it. Water in Toronto is really good, and has never done me any harm."

Jack Dunsdon, department store clerk: "I don't like the idea, as I dislike the taste, and I don't think it is necessary."

Eddie Hannah, taxi driver: "I think it is a gold-darned good idea. I am getting sick and tired of having a stomach ache. It will be the best thing the council has ever done."

Miss Evelyn Reid, telephone operator: "I haven't given the subject a great deal of consideration, but it sounds like a good idea."

Alex Watt, district horticulturist: "I think it is a very good idea, a precaution that should be taken."

Dr. A. W. Vanderburgh, doctor of medicine: "Absolutely all in favor of chlorination. There is no doubt in the world that if the water is chlorinated it is a certainty that it will not carry disease-forming organisms. Chlorination cannot do any harm, and I fail to see anyone's argument against it."

Mrs. Dave Turnbull, housewife: "All for anything that will improve matters."

Bill Laidlaw, businessman: "If it will do away with the danger of an epidemic, I am all for it."

Roy Angus, building inspector: "All in favor of doing it, providing it can be done at a reasonable cost."

Alex Graff, businessman: "The general idea of chlorination is beneficial."

Ken Boothe, businessman: "Wonderful idea."

It certainly seems that the general public, locally, favors the idea of chlorination, although many are a little nervous about the resultant taste. I have drank chlorinated water in Vancouver, and have never noticed any difference in taste.

Dr. Vanderburgh explained that there are many people in Summerland who are at present chlorinating their own water supply at home. Three drops of Hygoc in a gallon of water is a good home method, he instructed, and will leave no noticeable taste.

ing car driven by Mrs. Hookham. No bones were broken but he was severely out and bruised. Not knowing in which direction the Turkington car was proceeding at an intersection, Wesley attempted to pass between the two cars on his bicycle.

Miss Allan, of the Vancouver General hospital, is the new matron of the Summerland hospital, replacing Mrs. Fletcher, who has gone to Victoria.

Mr. and Mrs. A. K. Elliott welcomed a baby girl at the Summerland hospital on Saturday.

Rold Johnston has purchased the Clouston property near the station.

Mrs. David Turnbull and sons, Arthur and David, were recent visitors to Kelowna, where they were guests at the home of Captain and Mrs. T. Standbridge. They were also visitors to Vernon for a short time.

Alfred H. Reid, who was with T. J. Garnett at the time of his enlistment, has been awarded the military medal. Cpl. Reid is recovering from a serious leg wound.

The Stuart packing house has completed installation of a new Cutler-type apple grader. The Summerland Fruit Union has a similar machine ready to be erected.

The CPR has arranged to extend the sixty days' return limit on tickets held by pickers who came to the Okanagan to harvest the crop. This company has also commenced a Sunday service on its fruit boat run. The "Scamious" is running late nearly every night but the pressure is relieved somewhat by the "Okanagan" starting a Peachland-Landing run.

Death claimed Premier John Oliver at 11:20 o'clock Wednesday night and removed from political life of B.C. one of the province's strongest and most cherished leaders. A state funeral will be held in Victoria on Friday. He was born at Hartington, Derbyshire, England, on July 31, 1856, and came to B.C. in May, 1877.

He first entered the legislature in 1900 as a supporter of the Martin party, but disagreed with his leader and in 1902 was elected as a free lance in opposition to the Dunsmuir administration. In 1918, at the death of Premier Brewster, he was chosen leader of the Liberal party and premier of B.C.

Two boys, Jackie Blewett and Thos. Birrell, Enderby, swam Okanagan lake from the CNR wharf here to the wharf at Naramata.

Giving an outline of the chemists' relation to modern industry, Dr. J. Allen Harris was a recent speaker at the Log Cabin.

STIMULATE OIL DEVELOPMENT

Designed to stimulate exploration and development of the province's oil resources, British Columbia's new Petroleum and Natural Gas Act became law last week, it is announced by Premier John Hart. The act was passed by the last session of the legislature, but was not proclaimed until this month, to allow time for changes in administrative machinery.

Dr. T. B. Williams, controller of the province's coal, petroleum and natural gas resources, stated that the new legislation will remove many of the impediments that have discouraged oil companies from carrying out extensive prospecting in the past, and will encourage big and small operators to go into the field.

The new act sets up a system of permits and licences, leading to leases for expansion of drilling, where preliminary operations prove successful.

Cents Make Dollars And Dollars Make Cents Says A. K. Loyd To Fruit Men

Under the heading "Cents Make Dollars, and Dollars Make Sense," A. K. Loyd, president and general manager of B.C. Tree Fruit Ltd., growers' central sales agency, has outlined some pertinent facts to both managers of packing houses and to growers themselves in a recent circular to shippers.

"There is no reason to disguise the well-known fact that shipping houses are naturally in a competitive position one with the other and it is the objective of each to show the best returns. This state of affairs is accentuated by the fact that in far too many cases growers are apt to judge the result of a shipping house operation entirely by the net returns and packing costs at the end of the season.

"From where we sit we cannot help noticing that very often the temptation to save a few cents—often a fraction of a cent—is yielded to at the expense of the product.

Ultimate Test

"We would earnestly like to enlist your support in avoiding this short-sighted policy and we will also guarantee, both through your own efforts and those of the B.C. FGA to persuade growers that the ultimate test of a good packing house and its operator is the outcome of properly handled fruit which is presented to the public at a reasonable but not hazardous cost.

"When we talk about a hazardous cost, we mean that the product is risked in order to cut handling charges, or, alternatively, that the product is received and packed with the knowledge that it is not in proper condition and may easily make a poor delivery on the market.

"The 'fat' years which we have enjoyed recently have induced a frame of mind in many quarters, and particularly amongst the growers themselves, where they have almost come to adopt it as a principle, that 'anything that is grown will find a market somewhere'.

"It is being proved in 1947 that this state of affairs is past, and that if, as in industry, we are to survive, we have to be not 'as good as a lot of other people', but 'better than any'. It is not too much to say that from already existing conditions, shoddy, second-rate or off-color goods will be mercilessly dealt with by the public.

Consumer Groups

"It will be the job of the sales agency to persuade the trade that their margins must be brought in line with the changing public viewpoint. All of us have read of the existence and continued organization of consumer groups, who are determined to boycott any products which appear to be excessively high priced. They are also in the mood to boycott goods which, in their opinion, have not given them value for the money.

"The worst mistake which could be made is to think that by reducing costs at the expense of the product, any real progress is being made. Sooner or later, this procedure will boomerang, and with the tremendous crops which are now forthcoming from the Okanagan and Kootenay valleys, unless they command a premium appreciation by the public, the returns for what we are able to sell will be completely offset by surpluses which have been offered to and refused by an 'indifferent public'.

"There is no reason at all why we should turn our buyers into an 'indifferent public'. We have been able—due to many natural advantages and the skill of our industry generally—to present a product which is better. Not only in the Dominion, but in the United States and other countries, buyers have been taught to expect the best from British Columbia fruit.

Avoid Costly Claims

"The saving of a little money here and there by avoiding overtime, by delaying the operation of coolers, and by other methods, is not sensible, and will not pay dividends on the competitive market into which we are moving. As the buying trade, and the public generally, becomes more discriminating, products which have been moved to market under handicap will be rejected by the consumer, and will be the subject of increasingly heavy claims by the buyer.

"Such claims can, at one stroke, cancel and swamp completely the small savings that have been made by 'penny wise, pound foolish' methods.

"Put away those extra sharp pencils during the packing season. One can be prudent without being niggardly. Give the fruit all it is entitled to in the way of handling and storage protection, and it will be the most far-sighted and sensible program that can possibly be adopted for future years.

"The expenditure of a few more cents will make many more dollars, and many more dollars to the producer will make sense."

Angry Fans Protest Call By Umpire As Rutland Wins Game

Was it caught or was it dropped?

That is the question which will be the subject of discussion around the hot-stove league for many a moon, following the exciting and dramatic finish to last Sunday's ball game at Crescent Beach when Johnny Lingor was ruled by Field Umpire Fraser to have caught a line drive by John Vanderburgh which ruined a ninth inning Summerland rally.

Rutland won the first of the best of three series last Sunday against Summerland Merchants 4-2, but it was the concluding inning which had all the fireworks. The visitors had blanked the local Merchants until the ninth frame when two runs were scored and another runner was on the paths, with two down, Vanderburgh connected for a low drive over the infield. Lingor, who played a sensational game in the centre garden for Rutland, came in fast and made a dive for the ball.

Claim Never Caught
Fans who lined the field on the left side and who were in a good position to see the play, claim to a man that the ball bounced but that Lingor trapped it and made it appear as if he caught the horsehide.

Anyway, Fraser ruled that the ball was caught and that ended the ball game, except for half an hour of excited protest by local players and spectators alike who milled around the field, made threatening gestures towards Umpire Fraser and vociferously announced to all and sundry that: "We Wuz Robbed."

On the general play, Rutland should have won by a 2-0 score, as they nicked Bill Evans for twelve hits while Henry Wostradowski only yielded eight. The latter struck out nine Summerland batters while the best that Evans could do was four whiffs; all in the third and fourth frames.

Take Early Lead
The visitors jumped into a 1-0 lead which looked as big as a house later on. In the first frame, with two away, Lingor singled and Holisky bounded one to Walsh. The latter threw slightly wide of first base, where Vanderburgh got his glove on the ball, but the runner joggled him a bit and it went for an error. Henry Wostradowski scored from third.

In the fifth, two more Rutland runs scampered across, all on hits which went between first and second. These were balls hit late by right handed batters who caught the infield out of position. Shishido walked, Kitsch singled and the former scored when Wostradowski hit one to short right field. Thompson picked up the ball and heaved it to Walsh who relayed it fast to Imayoshi who cut off Wostradowski trying to gain second base. Lingor singled to Kitsch and that ended the scoring.

Double plays in the fourth and fifth cut off Summerland scoring chances but the sixth provided some real excitement. With two on and two away, Rutland deliberately walked George Taylor to fill the bags, while the fans roared their disapproval in their usual style.

Has Big Opportunity
Jackie Walsh had a big moment and could have made a name for himself but Hank Wostradowski bore down hard and struck him out. Walsh had registered two hits in his two previous trips.

Rutland added another, in the seventh when Jackie Amm made a bad miscue at second, he having replaced Hankins in that position.

Going into the last half of the ninth, with the score 4-0 against them, the Merchants tightened their belts and dug in. Thompson was safe at first when Hickichi made a costly fumble. Imayoshi belted one to centre and Thompson landed on third sack. Evans connected for a high fly to centre and Thompson scored when the catcher fumbled the throw-in. Imayoshi scored on Kuroda's single and the fans were going wild.

Clark hit one to deep centre where Lingor gathered it in, and Vanderburgh lined out the drive which is still the talk of the town. With a reverse decision, the score would have been 4-3, with the tying run on the paths and George Taylor at bat.

On the offensive, Walsh was the best for Summerland, while Kitch, Wostradowski, Lingor and Hickichi did most of the damage for Rutland. Imayoshi shone on the infield, handling nine chances, while Lingor and Bullock were the best for Rutland.

Teen Town

By ALF

The big issue now, of course, is elections, which will be held at the next dance, which will take place this Saturday.

Nominations have been handed in for mayor and aldermen. Those elected will serve a part term until January as this is only a bye-election. Campaign managers of candidates will do everything in their power to get their various candidates in.

The reason for the bye-election is that Alf Kita, our present mayor, is leaving, and also Shirley Harvey, our present secretary. We all deeply regret that Alf and Shirley have to leave as they have both done a swell job in helping to bring Teen Town back on its feet.

The following have been nominated to fill the vacant positions:
For mayor—Ray Moore, Carroll
Brawner, Jack Dunham. For aldermen—J. B. Hack, Ruth Nesbitt, Ed Fleming, Gwen Lamcraft and Mary Ward.

Welcome to Canada

Ontario PREMIER GEORGE A. DREW, (right) is shown as he greeted the first group of British immigrants who arrived at Malton Airport, Toronto, recently. The Premier is welcoming MRS. GONDA BLOW, followed from the plane by her husband ERNEST L. BLOW, of Southampton. Flights will be made regularly until the movement of 7,000 is completed.

Duck Season Shorter By One Month This Fall

As anticipated by hunters and game conservationists, a number of far reaching changes have been made in the regulations regarding migratory birds for the current year. In contrast with 1946, the season has been shortened by one month; the bag limit for ducks has been reduced to seven per day and 100 for the season. Hunting hours have also been altered.

In the Salmon Arm, North and South Okanagan, and part of the Similkameen districts the season for ducks, geese and coots is from Wednesday, October 1 to Friday, November 14. The season for Wilson's snipe is from Monday, September 1, to Tuesday, September 30. Last year, the ducks, geese and coots season was from October 1 to December 15.

The bag limits as set for any one day this season are: seven ducks; five geese (including black brant); 25 coots; eight Wilson's snipe—1946 bag limits per day were 12 ducks and five geese. The season limit for the current year is 100 ducks (compared to 125 last year); 25 geese; 150 coots and 50 Wilson's snipe. 14 ducks and 15 geese are allowed in possession at any time.

The shooting of migratory game birds earlier than sunrise or later than one hour after sunset is prohibited. In 1946, this regulation allowed no shooting earlier than a half hour before sunrise and later than a half hour after sunset. There is a closed season through-out the year on elder ducks, wood ducks, swans, cranes, all the shore birds not provided with an open season and all migratory non-game and insectivorous birds. The possession of migratory game birds killed during the open season is allowed in British Columbia for three months after the close of the open season.

Pump, repeating or automatic (autoloading) shotguns must have the magazine permanently plugged or altered so that it cannot carry more than one shell. Forbidden weapons include swivel or machine guns, or battery or rifle, shotgun loaded with "single" bullet, any gun larger than a 10 gauge or any weapon other than a gun or a bow and arrow. The use of live birds as decoys, or of any airplane, power boat, sail boat, or night light and shooting from any motor or wheeled vehicle to which a draught animal is attached also is banned. The hunting of migratory game birds by the use or aid of baiting with grain or other artificial food is prohibited.

The penalty for violation of the migratory bird laws is a fine of not more than $300 and not less than $10, or imprisonment not exceeding six months, or both fine and imprisonment.

SLIDE ON HIGHWAY

A slide has come down on No. 5 highway between the bottom of Peach Orchard hill and the packing house district but it is not of sufficient extent to impede traffic to any extent. Seepage water started to come down at this spot Aug. 17 weekend and on Wednesday mud was dislodged.

UPWA GAINS IN VALLEY HOUSES

KELOWNA—The United Packinghouse Workers of America (U.P.W.A.) are now government certified bargaining agents for all workers in the Okanagan Packers' Co-operative Union plant in Kelowna and in the Osoyoos Co-operative packing plant in Osoyoos, Frank McCarty, international representative of the union reported Wednesday.

Certification for the Osoyoos plant was received by the union in Kelowna about two weeks ago and for the Kelowna plant on Monday, he said.

Last Sunday a contract was concluded but not signed between the UPWA and Canadian Cannery (Western) Ltd. and negotiations are now in progress between the union and the Rowcliffe Canning Co. Ltd.

Basis of the contract with Canadian Cannery is (1) maintenance of membership in the union, (2) improvement of seniority provisions and (3) the bringing of wages into line with those paid for comparable work elsewhere in the area.

The department of labor is to rule on whether the existing contract at the Osoyoos plant is to be executed by the union or a new one negotiated.

Trench Mouth Not Rampant In Last War

Operation and disposition of a dental company in action in France was described to members of the Rotary Club of Summerland on Friday evening at the Nu-Way Annex by Dr. L. A. Day, dental surgeon, who was a lieutenant-colonel in the Canadian Dental Corps during World War II.

Trench mouth, he contended, was kept at a much lower ebb in the last conflict than in World War I. When a dental officer was sent on detachment, every man in the unit was charted and if it was at all possible every man had his dental work cared for, with the worst cases given priority.

When the call came for the trip to France, Dr. Day declared that all officers out on detachment were gathered into company headquarters and every piece of equipment was labelled with a definite colored tag and numbered. These colors and numbers were for definite destinations and designations of boat loads, he explained.

In his company, there were forty vehicles, the heaviest of which weighed fifteen tons. The company was divided into two boats and the vehicles were loaded by means of huge slings.

On arriving at destination, the vehicles were unloaded by means of the same slings into L.C.T.'s and the company was directed to a marshalling area. From there they were despatched to the same units they were attached to in England.

In a matter of a few days, all dental officers were back with the units they had known before embarking for the scene of combat.

He declared that the Canadian Army aimed at one dental officer for every eight hundred men but the average actually was one to every eleven hundred or twelve hundred men, as there were not sufficient dental officers available.

Thanks of the Rotary club was tendered the speaker by Mel Ducommun.

MEN WHO MADE OKANAGAN HISTORY - Rev. Father CHARLES PANDOSY, P.M.I.

The Apple Tree that made $150,000,000

FATHER PANDOSY was no prophet. Little did he foresee that the first apple tree in the Okanagan, planted by his hands, was to be the foundation of the Valley's chief industry

In 1857 Father Pandosy was the first white man to settle on the east side of the Okanagan Lake at Mission Creek. Two years later he was joined by other Oblate Fathers of his Order. Versed in horticulture and medical science, Father Pandosy was the most outstanding figure at Okanagan Mission. He travelled mountain trails wherever his spiritual or medical duties called him, ministering to his people in 30 years of loving labor. Those whom he served have long since passed away, but the fruit trees planted nearly ninety years ago on the site of the Old Mission, still stand as his living memorial.

It's a far cry from the first planting of Okanagan apple trees to the millions of boxes now produced every year. In the course of thirty-eight years, Okanagan Investments Ltd. and Okanagan Trust Company established in Kelowna in 1909, have contributed in no small way to the success of the Okanagan fruit industry.

Now Flies From Khartoum Base

KELOWNA—Capt. Geoffrey Rennie, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ward Rennie, of North Street, is now living in Khartoum, Anglo-Egyptian Sudan. After taking his pilot's and navigator's exams in London, England, with a class of which the British government passed only 9 per cent, he has accepted a post under contract with the Sudan government airways, with the rank of captain and the status of senior civil servant. He is flying one of the new de Havilland "Doves," and at present is engaged in mapping the desert preparing new routes for the service which the Sudan government is instituting, and which will reach out to points in Eritrea, Abyssinia and Egypt. Capt. Rennie has recently been joined by his wife, who flew out from England.

Kelowna City Council Is Unhappy Over Its Share Of School Board Costs

KELOWNA—An unhappy Kelowna City Council agreed that the ratepayers of the city should vote upon a school money bylaw as soon as possible, when the city representatives of School District No. 23 visited the council. While under the law there is nothing the city council can do but follow the requests of the school board, council members on Monday night definitely indicated that, while they were entirely in sympathy with the necessity of building a new school, they were not at all happy about the present school setup and the financial costs.

The school board has a building program for the coming year of $1,158,500.00 of which the provincial government pays fifty per cent. To raise the balance bylaws will be submitted in the rural areas and the three municipalities, Kelowna, Peachland and Glenmore. The rural areas will vote, it is expected, on September 8th, while the municipalities will vote on a later date. The bond issues, if the bylaws pass, will be 20-year serials at three per cent.

G. C. Hume, chairman of the school board, acted as spokesman for the delegation and urged that the vote on the bylaw be taken as soon as possible.

Replying, His Worship stated there was little the Council could do but follow the board's instructions. However, he did feel it was his duty as head of the City of Kelowna to point out to the ratepayers that the city is bearing more than its proper share of the costs of the district's education under the present scheme. In his opinion the city would be further ahead to be on its own and outside the present school district.

While Kelowna will only vote on a bylaw for $95,000.00 its actual contribution to the building costs is $291,700 which is 50.27 per cent of the amount to be raised by the whole district.

Regardless of the money Kelowna raises, it will repay, on this year's basis, 50.27 per cent of the costs, as each year the amount necessary for the school board's sinking fund and other expenses will be proportioned out to the various units on a proportional basis, based on assessments.

He estimated that Kelowna is paying eleven per cent more of the school costs than it should. For school purposes, assessments are based on one hundred per cent of the land and seventy-five per cent of the improvements. This makes the city assessment $6,738,861, while the outside areas, including Glenmore and Peachland, are $6,664,660. The percentage figures are 50.27 for Kelowna and 49.73 for outside the city.

On July 31st, there were 1,724 pupils in city schools and 1,581 in other schools in the district, making a total of 3,305 in the district. But in the city schools there were 425 who lived outside the city, leaving 1,299 from the city. In other words 39 per cent of the pupils come from the city, while 61 per cent come from the rural area, while the city pays over 50 per cent of the cost.

There are 98 teachers in the district, 50 being in the city and 48 outside. His Worship emphasized that his remarks were in no way a criticism of the board, itself, but rather of the present school system. "You have a very difficult task," he said, "and I know you are doing it to the best of your ability. It is no fault of yours that this situation has arisen."

"The council recognizes that a new school is a necessity in the city, and steps were taken two years ago to provide one. As you know a money bylaw was actually passed. However, the present financial setup is so unfair to the city, that I feel it should be brought to the attention of the ratepayers. No criticism of the work of the board is intended."

Mr. Hume pointed out that the percentage figures may change from year to year as the assessments in the various units of the district are altered.

He expressed the opinion that the rural percentage would increase materially when the recently appointed government committee gets through its work of equalizing assessments. With the increase in rural area assessments, those areas would bear a greater proportion of the costs of education, he said.

"The statement that the city of Kelowna is bearing 50.27 per cent of the cost of education is not correct," G. Mervyn, one of the Kelowna representatives on the board of School District No. 23, told the Council.

Mr. Mervyn was speaking on behalf of the school board and was referring to a statement that has been used frequently during the past few days in discussions on school board matters.

"The use of the figure of 50.27 per cent arose," Mr. Mervyn stated, "from the fact that in the division of the building program costs among the district's units, it so happened that the city's share of the proposed bond issues was 50.27 per cent. This percentage was worked out on an assessment basis."

However, the city actually only pays 46 per cent of the current educational costs. That is, in 1947, of the costs of education for the whole district, Kelowna pays 46 per cent, the unorganized areas 49 per cent, Peachland 3 and Glenmore 2 per cent. The current year's school taxes are based on 1946 assessments, while the bond issue was calculated on 1947 assessments.

ENGINEERS ARE NOW REMAINING IN THIS COUNTRY

Only one of the 1947 class of mining engineers from Canadian universities left this country for the United States, a survey by the Canadian Metal Mining association shows.

Though this year's class of 54 from eight universities and mining schools is the largest in many years, 1948 will see graduates nearly doubled to a total of 97. Of this year's graduates 50 per cent are veterans, the survey revealed.

"For one profession, at least, it is evident that opportunities in Canada are attractive enough to prevent a drain of technical talent to the United States," commented J. G. McCrea, president of the association. "No other country is more dependent on mining for its future than Canada, and mining engineers are essential to that development."

"Canadian mining engineers, thanks to our universities and mining schools are second to none," he said. "For that reason some leave Canada, temporarily, for work in South Africa, or with Canadian mining companies abroad, but most of them return to Canada."

It was a Canadian who tapped the rich placers of New Guinea and solved the problem of transportation in a country where no roads to the area existed. It was a Canadian who found and developed the new rich diamond field of Tanganika. Canadians may be found in many of the mines of the Rand.

"As in all professions," said Mr. McCrea, "mining engineering is becoming more and more specialized. There are four general fields of specialization open to a mining engineer after his preliminary training. He may work up through the production side to a mine supervisory position. He may decide to specialize in prospecting and developing, and for this field will probably return to university for his doctor's degree in one of the branches of geology. A few will specialize in ore dressing or milling practice which may require university study. Or he may choose one of the other purely technical fields of mine surveying, design, mine safety or ventilation."

The following Canadian universities graduate mining engineers. The 1947 figures are given after each with the expected graduates for 1948 in brackets. Nova Scotia Technical College 4 (12); Laval University, Quebec 2 (6); Ecole Polytechnique, Montreal 6 (7); McGill 5 (6); Queen's 18 (21); Toronto 7 (18); Alberta 8 (20); British Columbia 4 (13).

THRILLED AT WINNING

VERNON—"It's just wonderful—marvellous," says Mrs. J. T. Powle, jubilantly toasting the superlatives around since she was announced winner of the new 1947 Mercury automobile at the Vernon-Frontier Days windup dance.

Dr. T. B. Williams, who is directing resources surveys along the route of the proposed extension of the Pacific Great Eastern railway, returned to the Hazelton Creek area this week to supervise the expansion of the season's exploratory work. Since early summer, three survey parties and bulldozer and diamond drilling teams have been operating in the field.

SEPTEMBER 14 IS DATE FOR ROTARY TRIP

Sunday, September 14, is the date set for the annual treat which the Rotary Club of Summerland is tendering to the pupils of Grade XII of Summerland high school.

A dozen Rotarians indicated they wished to take their cars on this trip, which will provide ample means of transportation for the school students.

Destination will be, as last year, Grand Coulee dam, a visit which will prove a great educational value to the students, as well as providing an entertaining trip.

Guests welcomed by President C. J. Bleasdale at last Friday's Rotary meeting included G. Cormie, Edmonton; Anderson, Campbell River; and Allen Bent and William Fletcher, of Penticton.

CFA DIRECTORS TO HOLD OPEN SESSION SEPT. 23

When the Canadian Federation of Agriculture directors gather in Kelowna from September 23 to 25, the first and third days will be devoted to their own sessions, but the meetings on Wednesday, September 24, will be open, declares C. A. Hayden, secretary of the B.C. Federation of Agriculture.

President Hannam has recommended that resolutions of international importance should be submitted and discussed on Wednesday.

All growers will be welcome to attend the Wednesday meeting, Mr. Hayden declares.

This is the first time in history that a directors' meeting of the Canadian Federation of Agriculture has ever been held in the Okanagan and it is expected that more than 25 of the most prominent Canadian agriculturists will be present for these important sessions.

Teen Town under the sponsorship of the Legion W.A. committee headed by Mrs. B. H. Robson and assisted by Mrs. J. E. O'Mahony, commenced.

Seven teen-aged lovelies paraded slowly across a raised platform and stood before the large and admiring crowd.

Miss Ruth Nesbitt was judged the winner of this contest, with Miss Olive Mason being awarded second prize. They obtained gift certificates donated by Hill's Lad-

Others who participated and whose marks were extremely close to the winners were Misses Jean Bryden, Marcia Harvey, Julia
Hack, Beverley Fleming and Shirley Harvey.

Other games were commenced at the conclusion of the beauty show including a ball shy, a new concession for the street carnival.

Other Contests

Legion W.A. members sold cider, coffee, hot dogs and vegetables to swell the coffers of the fund.

There were a number of contests staged by the W.A. which intrigued the crowd. The bean guessing contest went to "Kit"
Muirhead, who guessed that there were 1,367 beans in the jar. He was nearest to the correct number, which was 1384.

However, the cake weight guessing contest was not so easy. In fact, four persons each obtained a quarter of the cake which actually weighed six pounds, 12 ounces.

Paddy Borton and Mrs. Frank Settle each guessed the weight at six pounds thirteen ounces while Mrs. W. Milne and Mr. Johanson guessed six pounds eleven ounces.

In the draw for the pair of blankets, Mr. W. J. May held the winning ticket.
